Farewell to Mardi Gras

Well, Mardi Gras dium. 2005 is now history.

With all the threats of rain, all local parades 'dodged the bullet,' as the old saying goes.

This past Saturday, one could not have asked for a more beautiful day for a parade than Krewe of the Diamondhead witnessed.

If you thought Mardi Gras was early this year, wait until 2008, as the big day will be on February 5.

One can now put their parade shows away until the big St. Patrick's Day parades a bit over a month from now. I hope everyone had a great Mardi Gras season.

While the state failed to act back then, federal prosecutors charged nineteen Klansmen under an 1870s civil rights law and in 1967 convicted nine. The jury, however, deadlocked on Killen's guilt.

Eubanks well remembers that when he and his sister arrived to enroll at the newly-integrated Mount Olive public school in 1970, they were greeted by taunts and catcalls by white students. He recounted experiences of being part of the historic integration of the state, s schools amid segremunity in his 2003 memoir. "Ever is a Long Time."

In his research for the book, Eubanks had found the names of his school teacher mother and county agricultural agent father in the files of the old State Sovereignty Commission. It wasn't that they were civil rights activists.

His father, well-respected by both the white and black local community, made the files because some woman in a nearby county complained that a Negro agent spoke to a home demonstration meeting of white

Dear Mr. Cuevas: I am shocked and mortified that you would allow yourself and your newspaper to be bullied into writing a news article. I refer to the article written in the Thursday paper entitled "Woman charged in exploitation of two adults." If one of the family members had not called you and pressured you into printing this in the paper, would you have even bothered?

I am a close friend of Sue Calhoun, the alleged criminal in this case. I know this woman and I assure you, she is not capable of doing the horrible things she is accused of by her sister and niece.

I have finally lost all hope the "Sea Coast Echo" would some day become a formidable newspaper. I am canceling my subscription. The nick-name for this paper has been the mullet wrapper, for as long as I have lived here. Today, I understand why.

Collins to be inducted into Goodwill Hall of Fame former CEO of Goodwill Southeastern Louisiana, has been selected for induction in the Goodwill Industries International Hall of Fame. Collins, a native of New Orleans and resident of Bay St. Louis, served as CEO for Goodwill Southeastern Louisiana from 1970 to 1997.

A little over 100 years ago a while he was ministering to the poor members of his community, a Methodist minister in Boston's South End, the Reverend Edgar James Helms, conceived the idea of putting people to work by recycling and selling used clothing and other items.

His primary objective was to give people hope, dignity and independence, using what he called "the power of work." Reverend Helms original concept was visionary. Yet it is just as relevant today as it was 100 years ago. His social innovation set in motion a worldwide movement that would transform more than 5 million lives over the course of a century.

Many call Jim Collins a true disciple of Helms. Clearly, he played an important role in shaping and cultivating the movement that Helms started, particularly Louisiana and

Collins recently reflected on his early years with the New Orleans organization: "I had actually applied for the position of CEO in the latter part of 1969 but was passed over for a minister who had just completed the Goodwill Executive pied a group of very old Training Program. He only lasted for seven months ... until July, when I was contacted and accepted the position. I resigned from my job with a manufacturer in Bay St. Louis, MS and from my evening job of teaching at a local university. I did not move to New Orleans at that time but commuted ... and ended up commuting my entire twenty-seven years."

When Collins assumed the helm of Goodwill Southeastern Louisiana, in 1970, the organization was in a state of disarray.

James J. (Jim) Collins, Leadership had changed hands several times. The staff was small and plagued by turnover. Sales were low, and not sufficient to sustain the organization. He knew he would have to make drastic changes in the business operation to enable the organization to carry out its social service mission.

With help from a strong board of directors, lots of dedicated volunteers and with the recruitment of strong senior staff members, Collins was able to put his Goodwill organization on sound financial and operations footing.

The . organization changed its name from Goodwill Industries New Orleans to Goodwill Industries Southeastern Louisiana. Retail stores were opened in Kenner, LaPlace, Hammond, Baton Rouge, Slidell, Covington, and Thibodaux; additional locations were added in the New Orleans area.

Collins cultivated relationships with the Louisiana Department of Rehabilitation Services, the local United Way, the City of New Orleans, local businesses, civic organizations, churches, representatives, and anyone who had an interest in making their community a better place. The results of his efforts were increased sales, an increase in service contracts and, more importantly, an increase in the number and variety of job opportunities for people with barriers to employment.

tnat Collins took over occubuildings (at least three buildings that were linked by ramps) in an older area of New Orleans that was plagued by physical decline, rising crime and high unemployment. According to Collins, there were murders that occurred right across the street, making the area one that many people avoided. In 1973 and 1974 he spearheaded a capital campaign that raised over $300,000 to purchase and renovate the two-story building that Goodwill Southeastern Louisiana currently occupies at 1000 S. Jefferson Davis Parkway in New Orleans.

At the time, Collins also applied for one of the region's first low interest loans from the Small Business Administration. When I went to apply for the loan, Collins said, the SBA representative told me he did not know of any such loan program and, when I found out about it, to come and tell him. Congresswoman Boggs was able to help us get some assistance. It was not long after contacting her that the head of the local SBA office invited me to come see him." Collins received a loan of sufficient size to allow completion of the move and building reno-

Over the years Collins was able to develop and grow his organization from one with annual income in the $350,000 range to one In 1970 the organization with earnings of over $9 money that was his priority, but rather the people for whom the organization existed to serve.

Over the years, Collins and Goodwill Southeastern Louisiana have touched the lives of hundreds of thousands, providing jobs, training, job seeking assistance and other services that are inherent in the Goodwill mission.

Probably Collin's most selfless act came in the mid 1990s, and led to the creation of what is now Goodwill Industries of Acadiana. At the time, the State of Louisiana made the sheltered workshops.

The Board of Directors of Multi-Resources (the organization that operated the workshops) was faced with the choice of having their facility closed or having someone take over the management of the agency.

resulted in approximately 35 individuals being sent home with no place to work. Commented LeRoy Over the long term, that Modenbach, Jr., CEO of decision would have affect-Goodwill South Mississippi: ed countless people. Collin's contribution to a solution quite unselfish, unprecedented, and also unheard of. He relinquished a portion of his Goodwill tate the creation of Goodwill Industries Acadiana, knowing that the end result would be two organizations that could better serve the people of South Louisiana than just one.

When asked for his reflections on his career and his selection for the Goodwill Industries International Hall of Fame, Collins stated: "As with an orchestra, it is the conductor that often gets all the accolades. But he is not solely responsible for the quality of music. I had a role to play as CEO. I was also blessed with a very strong and dedicated staff that was committed to the mission of Goodwill. They are the ones that got things done."

He also added: "For much of my early life I always felt I knew what God wanted me to do. Over time, as my career progressed, I came to realize that God had something else in mind for me. It was Goodwill."

Since his official retirement. from Goodwill Southeastern Louisiana in December 1997, he has decision to no longer fiind served Goodwill in another capacity - that of Director of Marketing and Community Relations for Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi, Collins spends his time sharing the vision of Reverend Edgar James Helms with the community leadership of Gulf Coast Closure would have communities, with businesses, civic organizations, and Goodwill employees. "Jim has been a blessing to so very many people. He is a rare individual of strong persuasions whose efforts have improved the quality of life for people in territory in order to facili- Louisiana, Mississippi and elsewhere. Jim even looks like Edgar Helms."

IF YOU MISS YOUR RETIREMENT MAY NEVER BE THE SAME

The sooner you visit Edward Jones to open or fund your IRA, the more time your money has for potential growth. By contributing the full amount now ($3.000 for 2004 and $4,000 for 2005). your money has the opportunity to grow even faster for retirement. But there's no time to waste.

Lady Tigers, Lady Hawks & SSC all earn #1-seeds

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers hosted the Picayune Maroon Tide on Mardi Gras Day at the Wilmer Seymour Gymnasium. The Lady Tigers improved to 25-1 and 9-0 in the division with their 57-45 win over the Lady Maroon Tide.

Picayune led 11-8 after the first period, but the defense of the Lady Tigers took over in the second period as Bay High enjoyed a' 27-19 halftime advantage.

The Lady Tide cut the lead to six points 39-33 with 6:30 left in the game; however, Tamara Reed nailed a three-pointer that took the wind out of Picayune's sails.

Bay High head coach Debbie Triplett stated, "We shot the ball much better tonight. I was proud of our defensive effort and the way we played on the boards. Also, our free throw shooting was solid. Destiny Porter had a good game rebounding for us. Tamara Reed did a good job, defensively, on Dedra Magee and she hit some big shots for us. Sara Gilmore hit some shots for us and Kendra Reed put in her usual Crystal strong effort. Skretching ran a good game at the point."

Kendra Reed each had 17 points to pace the Lady Tigers followed by Sara Gilmore with 13 and Destiny Porter with 10. Dedra Magee led Picayune with 13 points followed by Jamelle Clark with 10.

In the boys game, the Maroon Tide used their physical height to their advantage against the Tigers as Picayune won 64-

Bay High went into halftime down 20-12 following a Lorenzo Lewis three-pointer just before the buzzer.

However, the Tide used their height to pressure the Tigers to shoot from the outside. Picayune oopened up their lead to 41-20 by the end of the third period.

Bay High head coach Alan Lumpkin commented, "Picayune was very physical tonight. They gave us trouble on the boards with their height which also made it hard for us to penetrate. When we were able to kick the ball out, the outside shot didn't fall for us."

The Tigers will travel across the Bay of St. Louis on Thursday for their final division contest prior to the division tournament. The Tigers will tangle with the Pirates of Pass Christian.

Ladner honored for 300th win

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II Staff Writer

St. Stanislaus Rock-achaws head basketball coach Jay Ladner was honored by the school for achieving his 300th win on Friday, February 4th.

Ladner recorded the feat when his Rocks defeated the Gulfport Admirals November 20th in the New Orleans Arena as part of a triple-header with the NBA's New Orleans Hornets.

Currently, the Rocks are 24-4 overall and seeded #1 for the Division 8-4A tournament which begins on Monday, February 14th at St. Stanislaus.

Ladner, who also serves as the school's athletic director, stated, "I am very honored that St. Stanislaus would choose to put so much time in recognizing the accomplishment which I feel I am an incidental part of because of all the fine young men who have earned these victories with me. The achievement of 300 wins is really more about played here."

The school and booster club presented Coach Jay Ladner with a ceremonial gold ball signifying the achievement. Also presented to Ladner was an autographed ball, a painted portrait of Ladner coaching, and framed proclamations from the school, the City of Bay St. Louis and the County of Hancock. It is quite uncommon in today's time to see a coach stay so long in one place which is a testament to the fortitude and stamina of Jay Ladner. Brother Ronald Hingle, S.C., principal of St. Stanislaus commented, "Coach Jay Ladner has accomplished a major feat with 300 wins. I am extremely proud that he has had all of them here at St. Stanislaus. Not only does he forge great student athletes, he develops them in outstanding men of charac-

Ladner's overall coaching record is 321-151 with a winning percentage of 68%. He has recorded 20-win seathe young men that have sons 11 times in his 14 years at SSC. Overall, he has claimed five division championships - 1994-95 1995-96, 1999-2000, 2000-01 and 2002-03. The Rocks were also division runnersup and advanced to the state playoffs in 1993-94, 1998-99, 2001-02 and 2003-

Ladner has also taken the Rocks to the state tournament in Jackson four times - 1996 and 2002-04. Of those four trips to Jackson, Ladner has brought the Rocks to the state semi-finals twice -2002 and 2003.

Ladner's father, J. Larry Ladner of Kiln, is a former basketball coach who starred as player for Kiln High School and was Hancock County's first All-State player. BY JOSEPH W. GEX II Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rocka-chaw soccer team failed in its bid for a third consecutive Class 4A state soccer title with a 3-0 loss to the Pearl Pirates on Saturday, February 5th at Alumni Field on the campus of Millsaps College in Jackson.

The Rocks and the Pirates, winners of four state soccer titles, and the Pirates have met for the Class 4A state title the last four consecutive years.

Three years ago, in 2003, the Rocks stopped the Pirates from a completing a three-peat when they won their third overall state title. Last season, the Rocks defeated the Pirates 2-1 in a quagmire.

The state title games for all classes were moved to Millsaps College and their new Astroplay surface on avoiding the mud pits that plagued the games last season. It appeared early on in the first half that the game would be a tight one when SSC goalie Pablo Gomez stopped a Luan Lopez penalty kick with about 30 minutes remaining in the half. However, with 8:49 remaining, Paul Muffuletto broke the deadlock with his shot after a free kick by

In the second half, the aggressive defense of Pearl limited the Rocks' shots on goal. Muffuletto added his second goal of the game with 20:45 remaining in the game off an assist by Lopez. The Pirates made the final score of 3-0 with a breakaway shot. The Rocks finish the season with a record of 17-5-3. SSC has won state soccer titles in 1996, 1997, 2003 and 2004.

Vinton enthralls Bay audiences

THE SEA COAST ECHO. he "Polish Prince" Bobby Vinton will perform to swooning audiences at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis on March 4th and 5th at 9 p.m. The only artist to hit the Top 40 singing in Polish, Bobby Vinton, 69, earned the title "The Polish Prince" through longevity and sheer talent.

His string of 31 Top 40 hits spanned 14 years, and include: "Roses Are Red," "Blue Velvet," "Mr. Lonely,"
"Blue On Blue," and many more. Vinton continues to draw the teen girls who loved him in the 60's and appeal to new generations of fans. Tickets to Vinton's performances are: $19.95, $24.95 & $29.95 and are available through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster outlet.

Born in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania in 1935, Pennsylvania Vinton's Polish roots set him apart from the many Italian crooners of the early Sixties. With a bandleader, Stan Vinton, for a father, Bobby Vinton got the support and training he needed to make the best use of his vocal talents. The band he started at age 16 earned enough to pay for part of his education at

Bobby Vinton

Duquesne University. College and an Army hitch kept him from being a national teen phenomenon, but Vinton and his band appeared on Lombardo's TV show, and soon he had his first hit, "Roses Are Red (My Love)," which shot to #1 in the sum-course of the next two years. Vinton hit #1 back-to-back with "Blue Velvet" and "There! I've Said It Again," and later with "Mr. Lonely." He mixed in plenty of other gems, including "Blue on Blue" and "I Love How You Love Me."

Just as people began to mer of 1962. Over the suspect that his hit-making days were numbered, Vinton pulled "My Melody of Love" from his bag of tricks in 1974. This #3 hit endeared him to the Polish population of the entire United States with its chorus in Polish. Live shows followed in Vegas, Atlantic City and, eventually, to Branson, Missouri. Vinton. now has his own venue in Branson, the Bobby Vinton Theatre. He chose to pattern his new theatre building after the old Hollywood theatres, and so it is laden with murals and, of course, blue velvet curtains.

Vinton proved his artistic versatility by appearing in a pair of John Wayne films, Big Jake (1971) and The Train Robbers (1973). Vinton had a successful run on TV as well, from 1975 to 1978.

The Bobby Vinton Show showcased some of the finest musical talent of the era. At this stage of his career, the man who has sold 75 million records and been honored by the Polish government continues to pack in ticket-holders, and he looks as good as he did when he was recording the hits that made him famous.

Don't miss Vinton's two incredible performances at Casino Magic.

'What It's Like To Be Me' opens at LMDC

THE SEA COAST ECHO "What It's Like To Be Me," a new permanent exhibit, will open at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center on Saturday, Feb. 19. The exhibit focuses on understanding differences as visitors take the challenge and walk in another child's shoes.

Activities include an interactive mural, a signing booth, a reflective trace, a basketball cage and a tactile kiosk.

"Through this exhibit, children can experience the challenges that disabled people face every day," says Jan Cloud of the Biloxi's Awareness Mayor Committee for Citizens with Disabilities.

"Then, children can relate to differences and discover similarities with disabled children."

A fun-filled day is planned from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. to celebrate the exhibit opening. Gaits to Success, Paws for Cause, de l'Epee Deaf Center, USM Toy Library and other support organizations will be at the event. Visitors can create a "please touch" sculpture;
